Dear colleagues,

Over the past several months, the QEP Writing and Development Team has been gathering information, reviewing data, meeting with campus stakeholders, and developing QEP student success and student learning outcomes. We have had the opportunity to learn about some fabulous post-graduate success related programs and activities already happening at Longwood. During this review process, we identified possible strategies to enhance current programs and opportunities to create new initiatives to support our students.

We need your input on these possible implementation strategies and activities. Please plan to attend one (or more) of the discussion sessions.

Thursday, November 3 from 3:30-4:30 pm in 308 Allen Hall
Wednesday, November 9 from 4:00-5:00 pm in 308 Allen Hall
Thursday, November 10 from 3:30-4:30 pm in 308 Allen Hall

Can't make one of these dates? You will have an opportunity to provide feedback via a survey (more information soon!).

We wanted to share the QEP goal and outcomes for you to review before the sessions.

Preparing for Post-Graduate Success QEP Goal

The goal of the QEP is for students to choose and complete curricular and co-curricular experiences that are linked to their post-graduate plans. Accomplishing this goal requires building sustainable partnerships among faculty and staff.

Student Success Outcome

Longwood's QEP will help to improve retention of first-time full-time historically under-represented students particularly Pell-Eligible, male, and African American/Black students.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will:

- set post-graduate goals consistent with a holistic sense of self and community,
- integrate curricular and co-curricular experiences into a plan that supports post-graduate goals, and
- articulate the connection between curricular and co-curricular experiences and their post-graduate plans

Take care,

QEP Writing and Development Team
