Gingko Biloba Gift of the Class of 2005 Before the Rotunda was destroyed by fire in 2001, there was a beautiful Gingko Biloba in this very location. The Class of 2005 has given two new trees to replace the lovely specimen lost in the heat of the fire. The Gingko tree has existed, unchanged on the planet Earth for over 150 million years, dating back to the Jurassic Period. The term living fossil used by Darwin in his Origin of Species of 1859 aptly fits the Gingko. It may be our oldest living seed plant, and represents a most precious and tenuous link between the present and the remote past. Individual trees may live longer than 3,000 years. Dedicated 14 May 2005 Needs to be installed

This tree came from Warm Springs, Georgia, where Franklin Delano Roosevelt has his private retreat and the certified tree was obtained from the estate.

The Lake Isle Of Innisfree

I WILL arise and go now, and go to Innisfree, And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made:

Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honeybee,

And live alone in the bee-loud glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,

Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;

There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,

And evening full of the linnet's wings.

I will arise and go now, for always night and day I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;

While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,

I hear it in the deep heart's core.
