The students were asked to select three programs and indicate what they learned from each program. The students who selected “Your Responsibilities” indicated that they learned the following:

- I have many responsibilities
- I learned that you are responsible for everything that you do and that there will be consequences and punishments for misbehaving.
- That we are going to be in charge of our lives.
- A little dry but very informative.
- I learned about the Honor Code and Code of conduct.
- How to be responsible without parents.
- That it’s a really bad idea to be bad at LU.
- Learned what is expected of me
- What and what not to do.
- The things that students expect to do and not do
- What I need to worry about.
- My responsibilities
- What you are allowed and what is expected of the student
- That I am to keep a focus on my grade, but not to ignore all the great clubs and programs going on at Longwood
- Learned some things I will be responsible for when I get here
- My class and dorm life responsibilities
- Details about the things I am responsible for (in the dorm, academically)
- Responsibility
- I learned that I am responsible for anything that goes on in my dorm room
- There are a lot of alcohol rules
- What you are expected to do as a student
- Told me what is expected of me at Longwood
