 - Chris Bjornsen – VA Tech does not support AI detectors
 - “Given the obvious implications for academic integrity, tools are being developed and promoted that may provide some perspective on whether or not student submissions were written by AI. Due to the evolving nature of AI solutions, these tools are never going to be 100% accurate, and an overreliance on a tool to “catch” anyone using AI is likely to lead to a slippery slope of ineffective and highly stressful interactions with students.”
